Homecoming Events Fill Action Weekend

Homecoming 1971 proved to be an exciting and action packed weekend for UTM students and alumni. The campus hosted many dignitaries from the government as well as from the UT system during the weekend.

ACTIVITIES BEGAN Thursday night with a dance sponsored by the freshman class. Then on Friday morning, the Andy Holt Humanities building was dedicated to Dr. Andrew Holt, President Emeritus of UT, by Dr. Edward J. Boling. A luncheon followed the ceremony for all the invited guests.

Alumni and students took diverging paths Friday evening. The Board of Directors of the Alumni Council attended a dinner hosted by the Chancellor while students attended a special buffet dinner, pep rally, and bonfire. Then at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. entertainment in the form of a movie, The Relvers, was presented in the University Center Ballroom.

SATURDAY MORNING began with a coffee at the Chancellor's residence for alumni and friends of the University. Then, the annual parade began with its theme of "Happiness Is ----". Alpha Kappa Psi won first place in the car division, and Alpha Delta Pi won in float competition.

An Alumni Luncheon took place in the ballroom at 11:45 Saturday. Then came the football game with Florence State at 2:00 p.m. The Pacers smacked the Lions 20 to 7. During halftime another type of "smacking" was evident as Governor Winfield Dunn crowned Nancy Dugger Homecoming Queen, for the crowd would not settle for just a handshake.

OTHER HALFTIME highlights included the presence of 12 high school bands in a gigantic mass per-

Search Ended Last Saturday For Chancellor

Dr. Larry Thomas McGehee was selected Saturday morning by the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees as Chancellor for the Martin campus. Presently serving as Vice President of Academic Affairs at The University of Alabama, Dr. McGehee, 35, a native of Paris, will formally assume his new duties at the end of fall quarter. While the new Chancellor will arrive on campus around December 1, Dr. Norman Campbell will continue to serve as Acting Chancellor until the end of fall quarter.

THE SELECTION of Dr. McGehee culminates a short though intensive search for a new chancellor. The search began in August with the resignation of Dr. Archie Dykes, now chancellor at Knoxville. A Chancellor Selection Committee was quickly formed, composed of students, faculty, administrators and alumni, to screen applications for the vacant position. The committee, headed by Dr. Jimmy Trentham, chairman of Biological Science, was charged with the responsibility of making specific recommendations to Dr. Edward Boling, President of the UT system. The final step in the 3 month search was reached Saturday morning when the Board of Trustees approved of the committee's and Dr. Boling's top choice.

Dr. Trentham said the Selection Committee was thankful to Dr. Boling for his participation, and he feels that the selection was a healthy procedure. The Committee had a monumental task in tracking down the various candidates for the position, and Dr. Trentham thinks they did a commendable job.

Andy Holt Honored For Years Of Service

Kathy Fisher

The Humanities Building has been used for nearly three years, but it only became a part of the UT system's physical plant officially last Friday when it was dedicated in a one hour ceremony.

THE BUILDING WAS dedicated to Dr. Andrew Holt, President Emeritus of the University of Tennessee, in the presence of about 250 educators, alumni, and friends of the University at 11 a.m., November 13. Dr. Edward J. Boling, President of UT, made the official dedication speech, and Acting Chancellor Norman Campbell accepted the building on behalf of UTM.

Dr. Holt was present for the ceremony which honored him for his many years of service to the field of education, especially to the University of Tennessee.

He has served in nearly every capacity of the educational field and was awarded the highest honor that the teachers of America can bestow upon a member of their profession, President of the National Education Association. He was chairman of the U.S. Delegation to the World Organization of the Teaching Profession at Berne, Switzerland, and has served as president or board chairman of various educational organizations in his region and the nation. He was a charter member of the Steering Committee of the Education Commission of the States and in 1969 served as vice-chairman of the group.

DR. HOLT, A NATIVE of Milan, Tennessee, was educated at Memphis State Teachers' College, Emory University, Peabody College, and later at Columbia University in New York. He became the president of UT in 1959 after serving as vice-president and administrative assistant to the president for nine years. During his eleven years of service the university saw its largest period of growth. The value of the physical facilities of the entire UT sys-

Chancellor Looking Forward To Coming Back To This Area

Robin Taylor

By unanimous vote, the Board of Trustees selected Dr. Larry Thomas McGehee as the new Chancellor of the University of Tennessee at Martin. After the vote, Dr. McGehee entered the room with an air of confidence and an eagerness to tackle his new job. Following the trustees' meeting, Chancellor McGehee answered questions directed to him by a member of the Pacer staff.

Pacer: What attracted you to the UTM campus?

McGehee: The students were the best salesmen. They are an entirely different breed from students found on large campuses. When I was on campus to be interviewed, I met some students and they all seemed to have an eagerness to learn. The academic philosophy of Dr. Dykes, to make UTM the best undergraduate university in the nation, also appealed to me. Martin has truly earned its title as the Pace-maker by defying the national trend and concentrating on quality in undergraduate education.

Pacer: Are you glad to be coming back to the West Tennessee area?

McGehee: Yes, I have always liked the region. I was bothered when I left Paris by the fact that so many young people left—never to return. I believe this institution will help keep educated young people in this area. This area is rapidly developing with such improvements as TVA and industry. People are going to soon realize, if they have not already, that cities are not the best place to live. West Tennessee has so much to offer with the Mississippi River, Reelfoot Lake, Kentucky Lake and other hunting, fishing, and recreational areas.

Pacer: When do you plan to assume your duties as chancellor?

McGehee: I plan to arrive on campus around December 1, although I will not officially assume the duties of chancellor until the end of the quarter. I plan to spend the first 2 weeks meeting people and being in unexpected places at unexpected times.

UT President Edward Boling and Governor Winfield Dunn briefly expressed their views on the new Chancellor, Saturday following the Trustee meeting.

Pacer: Dr. Boling, what are your feelings in regard to the selection of the new Chancellor?

Boling: I was highly pleased with the student-faculty participation in the selection. I feel Dr. McGehee is very capable and will easily follow in Dr. Dykes footsteps.

Pacer: Governor Dunn, what are your feelings about the new Chancellor?

Dunn: It has been an extra thrill to be here today and to participate in the final selection. I am very pleased with Dr. McGehee's qualifications. He looks almost like a member of the student body. I believe he will be able to relate to the students and will become an integral part of the University System.

Homecoming Brings Out Best In Student Body

Larry Rhodes

Homecoming 1971 proved a very important thing. Namely, that, working together, the students can erase apathy from this campus.

THE HOMECOMING PARADE proved this as much as anything. It was certainly a pleasure to see even the smallest campus organizations entering floats and decorated cars. Only those who have worked on a float or car can truly understand the dedication, hard work, and, yes, endurance that goes into such a back-breaking, mind-breaking project. It can make one lose his hair, his religion, or even his girlfriend.

But in spite of this, one can learn from such an ordeal just what school spirit is. He also learns pretty quickly who else has any, and, as a result, realizes who his true friends are.

AFTER WINNING ONLY the sympathy award in the parade, however, one can at least find solace at the Homecoming dance.

No doubt, students found more than this at this year's Homecoming dance, especially at the Old Gym where "The Cross" played. Through a stroke of fate, "The American Cyrkus," which was originally booked to play at the Old Gym, broke up a short while ago, and their booking agency sent "The Cross" as a substitute. Fate or not, it certainly was a great step toward redemption for the SGA after our "Supremes" concert. It was so hard to believe we could have a dance this great that it seemed like a dream.

SOME STUDENTS HAVE even been hoping we could book this band again this year, if for no other reason than to know that we didn't just dream that they were once here.

rankly speaking... by Phil Frank

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

We, two concerned co-eds, would like a valid explanation for the differences in regulations between college men and women at UTM. As legal adults in the state of Tennessee, there seems to be a justifiable explanation, other than traditions, to support any treatment difference of the sexes on campus.

IF A FORTY year old female student was living in a university residence hall she would be required to state her destination, companion, time-out, expected return, and time in after 7 p.m. However, a male student has no intervention into his personal activities.

Legally, is an eighteen year-old male more of an adult than an eighteen year-old female? Is this judgement of maturity attributed to the fact that women are the child-bearing sex? Or is it merely a continuation of male supremacy?

Mary Ann M. Conville
Carla Sentella

Answer To Letter

A female student is not required to state her destination and companion when signing out. Only the date, the time she leaves, expected return and the time when she comes in.

THE REASON for having women to sign in and out is for safety precautions. If something should happen to the woman while she is out, no one would have any way of knowing. This way if she fails to return by the expected time, the staff can begin looking for her. The dormitory is supposed to be more than just a hotel.

The only time that a woman is expected to put all of the above on her card is when she is leaving for the night.

A DISCUSSION on the signing in and out procedures is now under way by the Student's Rights committee.

Campbell Gets Warm Praise For Service As Chancellor

Dr. Norman Campbell, Acting Chancellor of UTM, deserves warm praise for the job he has held since Dr. Dykes' resignation in August. A man who has witnessed UTM's development from junior college status to that of one of the nation's outstanding undergraduate institutions, Dr. Campbell's contributions have been meaningful, unselfish and profuse.

A FORMER PROFESSOR, chairman of Physical Sciences, and Academic Dean, Dr. Campbell's permanent position is that of Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Dr. McGehee will unquestionably have many occasions to draw upon Dr. Campbell's experience, and ability. He will quickly discover, and probably already has, that Dr. Norman Campbell is one of UTM's greatest assets.

Watkins Named To New Title

Dean Phillip W. Watkins was named to the new position of Associate Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs by the Board of Trustees this past Saturday.

Dean Watkins has been serving as Acting Dean of Liberal Arts, a position to be filled in the near future.

In 1956, Watkins received his Bachelor of Science in Agriculture from UTM. He earned a Master of Science in plant breeding genetics in 1959 and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1961 at the University of Illinois.

Dean Watkins taught at Clemson University from 1961 to 1964. In 1964 he returned to UTM and served as Assistant Professor in Biology until 1968, as Associate of Instruction, 1968-69, and as Acting Dean of Liberal Arts and Associate Vice Chancellor from 1969 to 1971.

The new Associate Vice Chancellor is an advisor to Student Government and served on the Advising Committee for the Improvement of Instruction.

Dean Watkins wife is the former Patricia Kirk of Medina, also an alumni of UTM. The Watkins' four children are Kenneth, David, John, and Teresa.

One dear old judge visited his alma mater and stopped by to greet his first instructor in law. "I see you're still giving them the same old test, Professor." "Yes," replied the instructor, "but while the questions remain the same, I expect different answers for today's legal problems."

BSA Provides Assistance For Black Students

THE BLACK STUDENT Association is a non-discriminatory organization. Its objective is to bring out black culture in order to better the overall campus. Chartered as the United Collegians in 1969, the organization changed its name to distinguish it from the United Collegian Chorus. Although there are only forty-seven members who have paid their dues and who have voting privileges attendance at meetings at meetings is around a hundred.

President Jesse Cannon describes the association as a second student government. He also believes the organization is a needed outlet for the black student's ideas and identity. In other words, the BSA serves as a morale booster. Jesse points out that there is more to so as a student than earning a degree, especially for a black student. VANGUARD THEATER's fall quarter production will be Mary Chase's comedy "Harvey."

Very few realize how much time, work, and expense has gone into this full-length play.

A LARGE PART of the success or failure of a play is dependent on the set. An often unrecognized man connected with this portion of the theater is Clarence Blanchette. Along with members of the stage craft and theater workshop classes, Mr. Blanchette has been consistent in constructing successful sets. He spends a minimum of 70 hours per week in the workshop prior to each production.

The clothing of a character must tell the audience something about him that is not spoken. Georgie Smelser is in charge of the costumes. Assisting her are Marsha Edwards, Patsy Cobb, Bivens Cullins, and Bernice Moore.

CHARACTERS MUST be made up in a variety of ages from children to the elderly. In charge of make-up are Linda Tindell and O. C. Walker Jr.

Rod Banta is the stage manager and the director is well-known playwright William Snyder. Lynn Black is Mr. Snyder's assistant. These men spend several hours a day, seven days a week all quarter with their crew to make sure every move and every word comes at just the right time.

THE CAST includes David Taylor, Donna Wool, Corrine Ewing, Susan Johnson, Sue Akin, Greg Peebles, Doug Shepard, Patsy Cobb, Shawn Dickerson, Ted Cooper, O. C. Walker, and Lynda Drewry. These people represent slightly more than 15 per cent of those who tried out for parts, so their acting abilities are proven.

"Harvey," the story of a middle-aged man and his imaginary six foot, three and a half-inch rabbit, will take place in the Fine Arts Auditorium this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

THE BOX OFFICE in the Fine Arts Bulding lobby, managed by Sissy Pearson, is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. every day. Tickets may also be reserved by calling 587-7536. Prices are $1.00 for students and $1.50 for adults.

Religious Leaders Unite For Panel Confrontation

One of the most controversial topics for discussion is the relationship between organized religion and the government. There have been numerous Supreme Court rulings concerning such things as Bible readings and prayer in public schools as well as federal aid to non-public schools.

FIVE RELIGIOUS leaders from this area confronted each other in a panel discussion Monday evening at 7 p.m. to express their opinions on these and other subjects in front of a crowd of more than 200 students and faculty members gathered in the Humanities Auditorium. Dr. Ted Mosch of the Department of History and Political Science served as moderator.

Those who participated in the discussion included Brother Larry Hardin of Maranatha Baptist Church in Martin, Larry Smith, director of the Wesley Foundation in Martin, Father John Schola from Immaculate Conception Church in Union City, Brother Billy R. Newby from Martin Church of Christ, and Mrs. Louis Razor, a representative of the Jehovah's Witness faith from Union City.

DR. MOSCH OPENED the discussion by introducing the panelists who each then spoke for five to seven minutes on any aspect of church-state relations.

Brother Hardin dealt with the importance of separation of church and state in religious matters. He said he felt that all religious instruction should be left to the parents who in turn should do their job.

PASTOR SMITH DISCUSSED the aspect of church-state independence rather than separation, with each one assisting the other, but neither dominating. He said he felt that it is possible "to teach moral principles and spiritual values in such a way as not to violate the principles of separation of church and state."

Father Schola believes that religion has a definite role in education because "the church maintains that it cannot instruct a child in his religious obligations toward God and his family... with just one hour on Sunday." He also stressed the role of non-public schools in relieving the heavy burdens of public schools.

BROTHER NEWBY STRESSED the importance of obedience of God's people toward the government. He described the role of the conscience in deciding matters of church-state relationships.

Mr. Razor spoke on the feeling of Jehovah's Witnesses about government as God's tool on earth. He stressed that they feel that God's people should be aloof from the working of the government just as the old Christians were.

A QUESTION AND answer period followed with members of the audience firing questions about such things as war, birth control and abortion. Father Schola seemed to be singled out for many questions concerning the latter two topics because of his church's controversial stand against such practices.

Dr. Mosch was forced to call a halt to questions at about 8:45 because of time element involved.

Zetas won first place in the window display for Homecoming.

Debbie Canter won first place in open archery intramurals.

Freshman

THE FRESHMAN CLASS sponsored its second project last Thursday night when they hosted a dance in the ballroom from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. The dance was well-attended by upper-classmen as well as freshmen, with the cost fairly low -- 75c stag and $1.00 drag. Two hundred students came to the dance to the sound of "Vengens," a local band.

The main purpose of the dance was to open Homecoming weekend with an activity for everyone.

PIKE

The Pike float won 2nd place in the Homecoming Parade. Brothers Ken Clarke and Terry Milligan, co-chairmen of the float committee, extend their thanks to all who participated in completing the float before Saturday morning.

Our Homecoming party was held in Union City Saturday night. At the party Brother Mike Maloan was awarded the Best Active for Spring Quarter and Brother "Philly" Missimer was awarded Best Pledge for Spring Quarter.

Presently the sorority has three new Pyramids: Jocelyn Porter, Betty Puckett and Abroda Simpson.

The sisters of Delta won third place in the Car Division in the Homecoming Parade.

Lib Arts

The Liberal Arts Club held its second meeting November 8, in the Humanities Building. It was announced that All Sing was scheduled for May 5th and the theme was "We've Only Just Begun." A brief discussion of the winter Wagon Wheel followed these announcements. Pat Sanders was appointed chairman of this committee.

Clement

Representing Clement as Homecoming Queen was Nancy Dugger. The theme of the float in the parade was "Happiness is Cream of Lion Soup." There will be a Talent Show in Clement's lobby Wednesday, November 17, at 9:30 p.m.

AN OVERFLOW crowd at Pacer Stadium witnessed a fine grid performance as the Orange blasted the Lions of Florence State 20-7.

The Lions, although plagued with several losses after their opening day thrashing of MTSU, did not give up when the Pacers had them down 20-0 and seemed to be running them off the field at intermission. A return of an FSU punt for "pay dirt" at :07 left in the half and a Lion fumble on the ensuing kick-off with :02 remaining, setting up a Randy Barnes field goal to sent the Pacers into the dressing room with the momentum.

POINTS HAD been scored so fast that many of those that headed for early concessions found themselves surprised when they returned.

Saturday, the Pacers travel to Livingston, Alabama, to take on the GSC title-contending Tigers of Livingston University. Livingston handed Jacksonville State a 10-9 GSC loss Sept. 11.

THE TIGERS WERE 5-4 a year ago, and were beaten in Martin 29-14. UTM holds a five game lead in the seven game series at 6-1. LU has 30 let-termen from last year and quarterback Leo Garza poses a big passing threat to the Pacer defensive secondary, which seemed to handle FSU adequately last Saturday.

Meanwhile, the Pacer passing game will need to be directed away from Livingston defensive back David Magouryk. Magouryk was ALL-M-SAC a year ago.

GAMETIME IS 7:30. The only time the Tigers have beaten (See page 12, col. 3)

AS 8,100 FANS looked on, the UTM Pacers stormed to a 20-7 Homecoming victory over Florence State's Lions.

The game was filled with key defensive plays as the Pacer's defensive unit arose from its slump and thwarted all but one FSU drive. In addition to halting the drives, they were also responsible for most of the offense's fine field position.

LATE IN THE first quarter,

UTM began its first scoring march as Randy Giltner returned a Mathis punt to the Pacer 15. From here, the Orange blasted State's defense for 51 yards on a drive to their 34 where Randy Barnes booted a 50 yard field goal to open the second period. With 14:59 remaining in the first half UTM held a 3-0 lead.

The Pacers next offensive series began at the Lions 48. A 22 yard touchdown pass from Kelly Coker to Dana Witten culminated the nine-play series. Barnes added the extra, boosting the score to 10-0.

THE CLOSING SECONDS of the first half saw Randy Giltner return a Mathis punt 60 yards for the Pacers' second touchdown. Once again the conversion attempt split the uprights, and UTM's lead now expanded to 17-0. The final Pacer score came with :02 left in the half when Randy Barnes hit on a 26 yard field goal after State had fumbled away the previous kick-off. At the half the Pacers led 20-0.

Florence tallied late in the third quarter on a two yard scamper by Elmore. Willie McCormick added the extra point and closed out all scoring. Final score--UTM 20, FSU 7.

A faculty recital featuring Barbara Jones, a member of the UTM Music faculty, will be presented November 29 at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Performing Theatre at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

THE PROGRAM WILL include the premier performance of three works entitled, "Songs for Children" composed by Gilbert Carp, UTM associate professor. In addition to the children's songs, compositions by Handel, Schubert and Honegger will be presented.

Miss Jones, a soprano, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Meredith College and a Master of Music from the New England Conservatory of Music. Elaine Harriess will accompany Miss Jones in the program.

THE CONCERT is free to the public.

Wrestling Squad To Face Toughest Schedule Ever

THE 1971 PACER Wrestling Squad will hold an intra-squad wrestling meet Friday, November 19, in the fieldhouse. Team division for this meet will be orange versus white and although a few men will be wrestling out of their weight class, six of seven classes will be represented. Everyone is invited to attend.

This will be the Pacers' toughest schedule as they will be facing University division teams. New regular season opponents include Maryville College, Troy State, Appalachian State, University of Florida, Georgia Tech University, Morehead State, S.I.U. at Edwardsville, and University of Missouri at Rolla.

IN ADDITION to the regular season matches, the grapplers will participate in three major tournaments, the Southern Open, Sunshine Open and the SEIWA Conference tournament.

The Southern Open will be held November 25-27 in Chattanooga. Included in this tournament is National Champion Oklahoma State. This will be the Pacers' first scheduled meet action of the season.

THE SUNSHINE OPEN will be held in Miami, Florida from December 28-31. This will be the first time UTM has entered this tournament and it should help keep the team in shape during (See page 12, col. 2)

THEY AREN'T WORKING OUT NOW--but, this 18 member wrestling team does work out, and is doing an outstanding job representing UTM.

Wrestling

SEIWA Conference tournament will be held at Maryville College from February 10-12. This will be UTM's second appearance in this tournament. In the past this tournament has displayed such powerhouses as LSU, UT-Chattanooga and Georgia Tech. This year the competition will be more evenly divided.

IN THE LAST two seasons, great improvement has been displayed at the home meets. About 1,900 fans attended last year's three home meets. This is an average of 800 spectators at each event, which is a good number considering wrestling is a very young sport for this area and UTM.

UTM was 15-12, in 1962. UTM won the series opener 14-4 in 1959. Last year was the first time the two teams had met since 1964 when the Orange came out on top 29-14. Only one game has been a real "run away." In '61 UTM finished the season 4-5 and shut out Livingston 33-0.

Past season's final games have seen UTM lose 15 while winning only five, but I look for an Orange win Saturday as the team should be "putting it all together" and a 6-4 season is likely. Livingston will no doubt be highly favored to take the game, though, as they rarely lose at home, and they have a GSC crown to look forward to with a win. The game is a finale for both schools and basketball season is fast approaching.

SPEAKING OF basketball, the '71-72 Pacers hopefully will improve last years' 3-20 season that ended with an 18 game losing string. A couple of OVC foes confront Coach Bob Paynter and his squad as they will be traveling to Clarksville December 1 to meet Austin Peay's Govs. They then take a two day rest before hosting the Blue Raiders of MTSU Dec. 4. MTSU is one of two home games before the Xmas holidays. Florence State invades Pacer Country the 11th, getting the GSC off to a fast start. This year is the first that UTM will not be competing in the VSAC as all Pacer teams are affiliating with one conference, the Gulf South. UTM won the VSAC championship in basketball in '69-70. Paynter's Pacers play all GSC teams twice with the exception of S.E. Louisiana and Nichols State.

Other schools represented on the schedule include APSU, MTSU, Lambuth, Indiana State (Evansville), Union, CBC, S.E. Mo., and, of course, Bethel. Bethel, always a big rival, will play both games at the UTM fieldhouse.

Coach Richard Reiselt's wrestlers open the 1971-72 campaign in Chattanooga November 25, competing in the Southern Invitational Wrestling Tournament. His team has but three meets at home, all after the Xmas break.

Coach Reiselt has 20 on this year's squad with 13 veterans. David Sisco will again be team captain and Coach Reiselt has a fine crew of men under him as he kicks off his third season as wrestling coach here.

Amateur wrestling is a relatively safe combative sport regulated by certain rules prohibiting physical punishment. There are 10 weight classes (118, 126, 134, 142, 150, 158, 167, 177, 190, and heavyweight). If a team does not have an entry in a specific weight class, the opposing team is awarded five points. A match, in collegiate competition consists of three periods. The first period lasts two minutes, the second, three, and the third, three. A pin terminates a match and the team is awarded five team points.

Duo To Present

MISS GERSCHEFSKI BEGAN cello lessons at age seven. By age 13, she entered the Juilliard School of Music where she studied under the late Luigi Silva. Leopold Stokowski selected Miss Gerschefski as the first woman for his American Symphony Orchestra where she was associate principal cellist for two years. For the past several years, the artist has concertized extensively in Europe and the United States.

Miss McCall began accordion lessons at age five and won the National Accordion Championship at age 12. In her native Minneapolis, Minnesota, Miss McCall operated her own accordion school while studying at the McPhail School of Music. She is nationally known as Fred Waring's featured soloist, and has performed on radio, television and the concert stage both in this country & abroad.

THE CONCERT IS free to the public.

DANA WITTEN has won the offensive award by setting a conference record with five pass receptions for 80 yards. The defensive unit yielded only seven points and intercepted three passes.

Saturday the Pacers will journey to Livingston, Alabama. Livingston University is currently 7-1 and in second place in the GSC.

tem rose from $63 million in 1959 to $218 million in 1970.

Dr. Holt's retirement was by no means the end of his educational activities. Last year Dr. Holt addressed over 200 national and state organizations in 20 states and Canada, and in January and February of this year he toured Europe and Asia, addressing Rotary Clubs, alumni, and business groups.

HE IS CURRENTLY a member of the Board of Directors of the South Central Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Hamilton International Corporation, the Provident Life and Accident Insurance Company, the Hamilton National Bank of Knoxville, and was recently appointed by President Nixon to the Board of Governors of the U.S. Postal Service. He is also currently serving as educational consultant to American Schools, Delta Air Lines, and Holiday Inns, Incorporated.

Following Dr. Campbell's acceptance of the building, Dr. Holt responded to the honor: "I have never had a higher honor than having this building named for me. I have always felt a particular affection for the Martin campus as a West Tennessean, and this building is a sign of the growth of the campus."

Department Provides Grills

Picnic tables and grills have been placed east of Atrium Dorm for use by the students. Grills were put in last weekend and have been used a great deal already. There is also a fireing that has not been used much.

IF YOU ARE in need of wood to use in this, notify the maintenance office. If they have any wood, they will deliver it for you.

There is a car wash and grease rack located east of the TV tower by the Heating Plant for use by the students and staff. The water for washing is free. There will be some containers for oil and grease in the near future.

THE MAINTANCE DEPARTMENT is also working on some bicycle racks to be placed around campus.

If you feel there is a need for other additions or changes call the maintance office.

Homecoming

After the game, many people attended open houses at the various fraternity and sorority lodges, or prepared for the dances which began at 8:00 p.m. Two bands highlighted the evening. "The Gentrys" played in the University Center Ballroom, and "The Cross" drew a crowd in the Old Gym. Students could purchase one ticket which could be used for both dances. One unusual feature of homecoming was the fact that freshmen women were permitted to stay out until 2:30 if they so desired. This is the latest permission ever given.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON closed Homecoming with another movie, "Luv," which was shown in the University Center Ballroom at 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.
